

SUPPORT FOR INDIGENOUS VOICE TO PARLIAMENT

The time is now to legislate an indigenous voice to Parliament, enshrined in the Constitution, to enable Aborigines and Torres Strait Islanders to feel assured that their concerns are seriously considered by Parliament and the Australian Government. This will enable us to genuinely start closing the gap on disadvantages experienced by indigenous people in terms of such important matters as health, education, housing, employment.

Again, the time is now.